CGIT Alumnae Perspectives

“CGIT gave me confidence as we took on and succeeded at our service projects. It taught me leadership, organization, sociability, public speaking and presentation skills”

“It gave me an outlet - a place where I could be ME, with girls my own age, also questioning their growing faith, in an atmosphere of openness, trust and sharing. We learned so much...about other parts of the world; being women, health and truth and God.”

“I may not have “fit in” at school or in my social life, but I did fit in at CGIT and throughout my high school years I seldom missed a Tuesday night. We had a meeting, we sang, we studied or did projects...I always felt better after a meeting!”

“I especially remember CGIT camp and making new friends there. At the end of the day, when we all sang TAPS together, it was a very emotional time.”

“I have life-long CGIT friends. We don’t necessarily see much of each other, or stay in touch too often...but I know they are there for me”.

*“Day is done...gone the sun...
from the lakes, from the hills, from the skies...
all is well...safely rest...
God is nigh”.*

Today’s young women face extreme peer pressure in schools, on the social scene and in the work place. In an age of ever-increasing pressure on families, these young women need a place to be themselves and to discover their personal potential in an atmosphere of acceptance, support and love as they gain confidence in their thoughts, feelings and abilities. Hundreds of Alberta women have grown in faith and confidence through their CGIT experiences.

Cherishing the memories of those who went before us and celebrating the promise of young women today.
